ANNOUNCEMENTS

Pastor Cindy Lapp's current contract has expired and the church council has offered to her another three-year extension which she has accepted. Members of the congregation are asked to affirm that extension in a vote today, Nov. 13. If you have any questions or comments, please contact a member of the pastorate or the church council chair, LeAnne Zook.

Ted & Co., based in Harrisonburg, Va., will present their new satire "I'd Like to Buy an Enemy" here at HMC on Saturday, Nov. 19 at 7 p.m. Be sure to plan to attend. Suggested donation is $15. For more information about Ted and Co., check their website: www.tedandcompany.com. Also see the bulletin insert for more details.

Many thanks to all of you who participated in various ways with the Ten Thousand Villages Craft & Bake Sale. The unpacking, setting up, baking, selling, straightening, buying, eating, packing up, and hauling all went smoothly. The bake sale outdid the past few years, bringing in just over $1,000! We'll be able to send about $700 of that to MCC's work on famine relief in East Africa. The TTV sale brought in around $8,500, just a bit less than last year. Give a contented sigh of marvelous accomplishment!

On Thursday several pastors from the Casselman Valley region of Allegheny Conference (of which we are a part) will come to HMC for lunch with Cindy and Adam. These regional pastors gatherings happen six times a year. The other pastors in the group expressed interest in visiting HMC and including Cindy and Adam. We are happy to welcome them on Thursday.
