Confessing

Confession

One: God of Abraham and Sarah, of Joseph and Mary; God of Donald Trump and Barack Obama; God of James Dobson and Martin Luther King, Jr., of Cesar Chavez and Anne Graham Lotz, you have dispersed your image uniquely in each of us, you love us uncategorically and we are humbled by your grace.

Many: There is no longer Jew or Greek, there is no longer slave or free, there is no longer male and female; for all of you are one in Christ Jesus. (Galatians 3:28)

One: We confess that we are guilty of categorizing others on the basis of their race, and that the result has been the intentional and unintentional oppression of your people.

Many: Take away from me the noise of your songs; I will not listen to the melody of your harps. But let justice roll down like waters, and righteousness like an ever-flowing stream.

(Amos 5:23-24)

One: We confess that too often we are naïve to privileges held since birth because of the color of our skin, naïve to our own implicit biases that demean and devalue those who are not white, not “light.”

Many: My brothers and sisters, do you with your acts of favoritism really believe in our glorious Lord Jesus Christ? ...have you not made distinctions among yourselves, and become judges with evil thoughts? (James 2:1, 4)

One: Give us eyes to see injustice, ears to hear intolerance, and the courage to act with wisdom.

Many: Beloved, let us love one another, because love is from God; everyone who loves is born of God and knows God. Whoever does not love does not know God, for God is love. (1 John 4:7-8)

All: Amen, Amen and Amen.
