Confessing

Confession

Leader 1: Lord, when did we see you hungry or thirsty?

Left: I am from Ethiopia. I was hungry and thirsty because our land is parched by drought, and our crops won't grow.

Leader 2: Lord, When did we see you a stranger?

Right: I am from Syria. I was fleeing instability in my country caused by conflict over access to water.

Leader 2: Lord, When did we see you naked?

Left: I am from California. I lost everything when my home burned.

Leader 1: When did we see you sick?

Right: I am from India. I was sick because we did not have air conditioning and temperatures now regularly exceed 100 degrees for days on end.

Leader 2: When did we see you a prisoner?

Left: I am a member of the Standing Rock Sioux tribe. I was imprisoned protesting the use of our land to produce and transport fossil fuels.

Leader 1: Lord, have mercy on us, for we consume more than our share of the earth's resources.

All: Let us cry out on behalf of those who face existential crisis, joining our voices in alarm and holy hope. In doing so, we serve you.
