Call to Worship

Five hundred years ago, the Spirit stirred ordinary people to follow Jesus with courage, conviction, and love.

We remember our ancestors in faith, who chose discipleship, community, and peace. We give thanks for their witness, their sacrifice, and their hope.

They sought baptism upon confession, communities shaped by Christ, and churches grounded in love rather than power.

We receive their witness and commit ourselves again to walk in the way of Jesus.

To seek peace, to practice justice, to love our neighbors, and to live simply and truthfully.

Come, Holy Spirit. Shape us as people of Christ, for the life of the world.
